Particular qualifications to be a Regional Councillor:

Tamás Marghescu is a well-known and respected personality in the field of international forestry; nature conservation and sustainable development. He values IUCN as a crucial institution to lead the battle of nature conservation. He knows IUCN from the inside and has an enormous international network of contacts all over the world, which he understands to use for the purposes of conservation. He is able to develop visions and make them become true. He has a track record of a leader being able to also be a member of a team. He is transparent and honest, creative and constructive and ‘not thinking out of the box’. His political experience from being IUCN’s Permanent Representative to the European Union for almost 8 years, would be an invaluable asset in the Council of IUCN. His ability to convene people, to be credible to different stakeholders in conservation and to mobilize financial resources for conservation could be of immense use to the Council of IUCN. He is a member of WCPA and of the European IUCN Sustainable Use Specialist Group, emphasizing that sustainable use is a strong pillar of conservation.
